Attorney General Biden initiates full examination of obligations to disclose in 2005

Wilmington, DE – Today, Attorney General Beau Biden issued the following statement concerning questions raised about the investigation of Dr. Earl Bradley:

“Today, I have asked my State Solicitor to conduct a thorough examination of whether any individuals or entities in 2005 failed to fulfill their legal obligation to report allegations of wrongdoing against Dr. Bradley to the Division of Professional Regulation or the Board of Medical Practice. For example, the recent assertion that various elements of the medical community had information that may have triggered such reporting requirements is a serious concern. We need to get to the bottom of this. As a result, I have instructed the State Solicitor to report his findings to me as soon as possible.”
